

TESTIMONIALS

FROM PAST CLIENTS, COLLEAGUES, AND COLLABORATORS

Daniela is one of the most hardworking and professional individuals I have had the pleasure of knowing and working with. She takes the time to meticulously plan, create, and organize successful events that provide individuals with access to different communities to help each other grow personally and professionally. Needless to say, Daniela is a great communicator and community builder. I highly recommend Daniela for her professional capabilities and also for her very kind and inclusive personality which makes her a great team player in any capacity she is in.

Sarah DeGeorge, Digital Marketing Specialist

"Daniela is one of the most creative, inspiring people I have ever had the pleasure of being around. She is a never-ending resource of ideas, constantly coming up with perspectives I would never have considered. Not to mention the fact that she's incredibly networked and connected with resources in the city of Philadelphia and beyond, so she can make ideas spring into actions very quickly. You will NOT regret having this incredible human in your corner!"

Danielle Massi, Holistic Psychotherapist and Founder of The Wellness Collective, PHL

"Daniela is a driven entrepreneur, an energetic entertainer, an inspiring consultant, and a thoughtful TV host. And my favorite thing about Daniela? She has an undeniable superpower: zeroing in on the unique strengths of every person she meets. And then she gets so darn excited about finding ways to help you tap into your superpowers that her enthusiasm becomes contagious and you can't help but believe in yourself. She asks the best questions in order to tease out your best answers. Every time I wrap up a conversation with Daniela, I feel inspired to dive into my big-picture goals. Thank you, Daniela, for supporting me the way that you do."

Sarah Zero, Brand Strategist and Founder of Wellstruck Brand Design and Wellstruck Lady Boss Roundtables

DANIELA GALDI

"I had been struggling with multiple different aspects of my life, when Daniela, a colleague and friend reached out to me to discuss a project. As we got to talking, I was overwhelmed by the support she provided. In the coming weeks, I worked up the courage to ask her for more formal help. In the 6ish months I've been working with Daniela, I have been able to let go of my fear and work towards many of my larger goals. Daniela has provided the support, guidance, and safe space I needed to make my vision(s) a reality."

Sydney Bromfield of Sydney Marie Events

"Working with Daniela Galdi is a joy. I wish all my associates were as conscientious, organized and creative as Daniela is. Daniela always has a positive attitude and I like her ideas about projects. She always comes up with a new point of view or approach that works."

Cheryl Squadrito, Owner of Media Friendly, PR

"Daniela is a joy and a delight to work with. She is warm and insightful and really works to understand your particular vision. She brings her professional expertise to the table and asks questions that can help you view your project from a unique perspective. Daniela is a ball of positive energy and you can expect to work with someone who has the ability to keep you accountable and energized on your journey to launch!"

Alanna Gardner, MFT, Owner of AAlign Wellness and Philadelphia MFT

"Daniela has always encouraged me and never let me feel judged in her presence. She has been patient and kind, and thoughtful with her words. I have enjoyed our time together and I do consider Daniela a beacon of love and life."

Giovanna Galdi, Coaching Client

DANIELA GALDI

"Daniela provided production coaching for my first self-produced Philadelphia Fringe Festival performance. Her production experience, experience in media relations and perspective as a performer gave her the unique ability to understand my artistic vision, help me articulate it through choreography and production design, and then to market it efficiently and creatively. Her wide variety of experiences have given her a thorough understanding of the entire performance life-cycle and ultimately translate to all-encompassing coaching experience. Her individual artistic perspective, both dynamic and innovative, was an added bonus throughout the process and she ultimately served as a creative advisor to me throughout the process."

Courtney Hunter, Artistic Director of Stolen Fire Collective

"Daniela Galdi is a dynamic, energetic, business coach, host and a compassionate person. Her talents and expertise include coaching other entrepreneurs, sales and marketing, television hosts and results-oriented professionals. When coaching others, Daniela's confidence and expertise creates a strong bond that encourages her clients to communicate the big picture in a concise and meaningful way.

Additionally, Daniela's hosting and interviewing experience helps her Around the Table television guests feel comfortable when sharing their story, company and goals in a fun and educational conversation. This is fantastic for guests like me and the audience to learn something new and take action whether that means purchasing a new product or taking a class.

I am impressed with Daniela's many talents, generosity, time and compassion for others. Anyone would be lucky to have her on their team."

Nancy Connor, Founder of Smart Adaptive Clothing

Daniela is an amazing coach. She helped me come up with a strategic plan on how to start my caregiver's program. Without her, I would still be going in circles trying to figure out where to start. She has such an amazing personality.

Mica Saunders, Founder of MoxieMovez

I worked with Daniela for a one on one customized session to work on my social media marketing and strategy for my counseling private practice. It was an absolute pleasure working with her! I brought content and posts that I already created but was not sure the direction to take them in. She took time to listen to my concerns and pain points to understand what I was looking for and was extremely thoughtful in her responses. We went through each one together and talked through all of it. I walked away from that session with more than two months worth of content & posts, creative ways to repurpose my content, a strategy and plan of action, and the confidence to move forward. Daniela has a wealth of knowledge and wanted to make sure that her suggestions and perspective were in alignment to what I was looking for. I plan to continue working with her one on one for other aspects of my business. I love that her coaching is completely customizable and not a cookie cutter "how to" of steps to take.

Kira Yakubov, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, Coaching Client
